1. Britt Music & Arts Festival is a community non-profit organization. All membership contributions (less the monetary value of benefits received) are tax-exempt under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, and deductible for federal income tax purposes.
2. Benefits apply to members of the same household and are non-transferable. Only one membership per household.

Please note, Britt does not work with any outside websites to sell tickets, and does not work with any ticket sellers who mark up ticket prices, including sites like StubHub, Cheap Concert Tickets or Tickets Review.

Legitimate tickets can only be purchased through the Britt Box Office or online at brittfest.org.

*PRESALE TICKET LIMITS

During the member presale period, purchase of reserved tickets is limited, per concert, depending on level of membership. Limits include reserved benches, premium reserved blankets (one blanket equals two or four tickets), standing room only (SRO) tickets, or any combination. Additional restrictions may apply for some popular events (see order form or visit brittfest.org). There are no purchase limits on general lawn.
